Story Telling and Attention Span

Have you ever wondered why do we fall asleep in boring class?

Human brain needs to spend energy to listen and understand

But the brain needs a reason to spend energy – avoid pain or gain pleasure

That's the reason we listen intently in a terrifying teacher's class

But, all of us prefer pleasure!

According to American neuroscientist and researcher Dr. Paul J. Zak, a great story gives the brain a lot of pleasure and creates an immersive experience. Telling a good story is a way to trick the brain into listening.
